Brandon Update

CCACA – we had a very nice display. The conference was a great opportunity for people to show their work. A lot of attendees, despite the rain. Showed 10 more pieces this year than last year.
Soda kill – progressing with research the price is likely in between $10,000 and $20,000.
Visiting artist – working on it. Still targeting June.
Chili cook off – some point in November. We have about 100 bowls left over.

General CAG Updates

Update from Bill - will work on a budget in May. In good shape.
Contest – Lynn Meade will be the judge. Mary-Leigh Miller made a poster for the event. Volunteers have stepped forward to help.
Meals on wheels – maker events were good for camaraderie and connecting with others. 60 people involved. Glazing happened April 18.
Art collection (Florence) – Iris was a tremendous help. Some items have missing numbers. One more place to clean as well as the new one.

Spring sale – Now up to 30 people selling! Pat is working out the spacing like a master Tetris player. Kids and throwing will be outside. Cashier close to the door.

Volunteer for CAG – Question arose if we should require volunteering to be a part of CAG - decided that no formal requirements are required.
