

CAG Meeting Notes Mar 20, 2024

Attendees: Pat Alger, Nicole Collins, Julie Dandliker, Erika Goldstein, Florence McAuley, Mary Leigh Miller, Barbara Moreland, Iris Moore, Bill Schaaf, Bette Sindzinski, Marina Klotz, Brandon Lipe, Maile Ogasawara

Brandon Update

Visiting artist – nothing in store yet. Maybe something in June.

Sonoma chili bowl – they had three different times about 100 people each. They had restaurants making chili in a commercial kitchen. Brandon liked our bowls better. They had a live local band playing. Maybe Doug's band can play music for ours. They serve the chili in the bowl even though everyone touched the bowls when selecting their own. No wash stations. They also had corn and bread from a local bakery and someone demoing making bowls. For our next one, November seems to be a good time.

CCACA people have been applying to go. It's in Davis April 12-13.

Family Art Day - very successful with about 1000 people attending.

Will ask instructors to introduce CAG at the beginning of classes.

General CAG Updates

Meals on wheels (Barbara)

Meals on wheels maker events went well. Held second maker event and will also hold glazing event.

Finance (Bill) – we are a good shape financially, should we increase the scholarship again? Bill talked with Brandon about potential needs. No details provided.

Display Case (Florence) - Will be cleaning out the collection cases. All the cases have been filled. All the inventory is currently stored on a computer, which should be transferred to the cloud and/or an inventory app.

Contest (Iris) - Contest will be held June 8. Drop pieces off on Friday, June 7 from 12 to 6. The theme will be color. Lynn Meade will be the judge. Judging will happen in the morning and the event will be held from 12 to 3 in the afternoon.

Spring Pottery Sale - May 4 - 5 from 10:00-3:00. 30 people are selling. Set up on Saturday. Can leave pieces in the dance studio on Friday night. Will draw numbers for tables on Friday.

Needed to wrap meeting up early, so Bette's topics will be rolled over until the next meeting.
